Procurement Queen Launches Groundbreaking Conference to Empower Laid-Off Individuals in Government Contracting

New Jersey, November 14, 2023 – Procurement Queen is excited to announce the launch of an innovative conference aimed at equipping laid-off individuals with the knowledge and tools to monetize their skills through government contracts.

With a distinguished career with over 10 year's experience, Procurement Queen has built a reputation as a leading expert in government contracting. This conference represents the culmination of a lifelong commitment to fostering economic empowerment and resilience within the workforce.

The "Monetizing Skills for Government Contracts" conference, set to take launch November 27, 2023, will be a one-of-a-kind opportunity for attendees to gain invaluable insights into the intricacies of government contracting. The event will feature a comprehensive agenda, including:

Conference Highlights

- Learn how to navigate government procurement processes.
- Learn strategies for identifying and marketing your skills to government agencies.
- Understanding No Bid Contracts: Learn when and why government agencies opt for no bid contracts and how this can benefit you.

Procurement Queen emphasizes the importance of this conference in today's economic landscape, stating, "In these challenging times, the government contracting sector presents a unique avenue for individuals to leverage their skills and expertise. Our goal is to provide the knowledge and connections necessary to help attendees not only survive but thrive in this competitive arena."

Procurement Queen is driven by the passion of making a difference in as many lives as possible. This event promises to be a game-changer for individuals seeking new opportunities and financial stability.

The "Monetizing Skills for Government Contracts" conference is expected to draw participants from various professional backgrounds, including IT, engineering, consulting, banking, human resources, marketing and many others. By the end of the event, attendees will be better prepared to transition their skills into sustainable government contracts, ultimately securing their financial future.
